

Geraldine Moore The Poet
Exploring Characterization

We have established Geraldine as a flat character, but what about Mrs. Scott?

Who is the protagonist in this story? Is there an antagonist?

To help prepare for next week’s quiz, complete the following charts about Geraldine Moore and Roger from “Thank You M’am”.

List the main characters in each story and describe them.

“Thank You M’am”	“Geraldine Moore the Poet”

Using the Venn Diagram below, compare and contrast Geraldine and Roger. Think about the following questions as you complete the diagram.

- Are both the characters protagonists?
- Are both characters round or flat characters?
- Do both characters experience a significant change?
- What do both characters have in their lives that is positive?
- What do both characters need in their lives? What is negative?

Roger

BOTH

Geraldine

